

EMG

by Dr. Craig Neleson MD

electromyography

What is a EMG or Nerve Test??

EMG or electromyography is composed of two tests the NCS (Nerve Conduction Test) and the Electromyography. This test is used to determine where a nerve disorder is and if there is a muscle disorder as well. I ONLY perform this test if the information attained leads to a change in your treatment plan.